A PhD research scholarship is available in the School for Environmental Research at Charles Darwin University (CDU), on the Casuarina (Darwin) campus.

The scholarship is part of an Australian Research Council (ARC)-funded Linkage project in partnership with the Northern Territory Government and the Northern Territory Cattlemen's Association and is entitled:

"Estimating the potential supply of environmental services by landholders"

This stimulating project will develop new conceptual and empirical insights relevant for the development of markets for the ecosystem services provided by the landscapes of Australia's northern savannas as they relate to carbon sequestration, biodiversity and water conservation, and other landscape dimensions.

Applicants should have completed a Bachelors degree (Hons) (1st Class or 2A) or Masters degree (with research component) in a field of economic or social sciences, or other relevant field.

The three-year scholarship is open to both domestic and international students. The scholarship attracts a tax-free stipend of $27,222 minimum per annum (2010 rate), plus allowances for travel and relocation.

You will be part of a dynamic team of researchers within the Livelihoods Policy Theme of the School who conduct innovative research into the linkages between the natural environment and human wellbeing across northern Australia, south-east Asia and beyond.

Further information is available at: <http://www.cdu.edu.au/ser/PhDMScandHonoursOpportunities.html> or www.cdu.edu.au/research.

Potential applicants may wish to discuss the scholarship with Professor Romy Greiner (email: romy.greiner@cdu.edu.au; phone: +61 (0)8 8946 7345.

Application forms are available from the Office of Research and Innovation by phoning Ms Fiona Steele, Research Degrees & Scholarships Officer on +61 (0) 88946 6548 or by email: research.degrees@cdu.edu.au

Closing date: 19 November 2010 or until a suitable candidate is selected.

Charles Darwin University is a member of the Innovative Research Group of Universities.

The research excellence at CDU is recognised in a new international ranking of universities. The Spain-based SCImago Institutions 2009 World Report ranked CDU in the top five Australian universities.
